

Part Two – Student Success

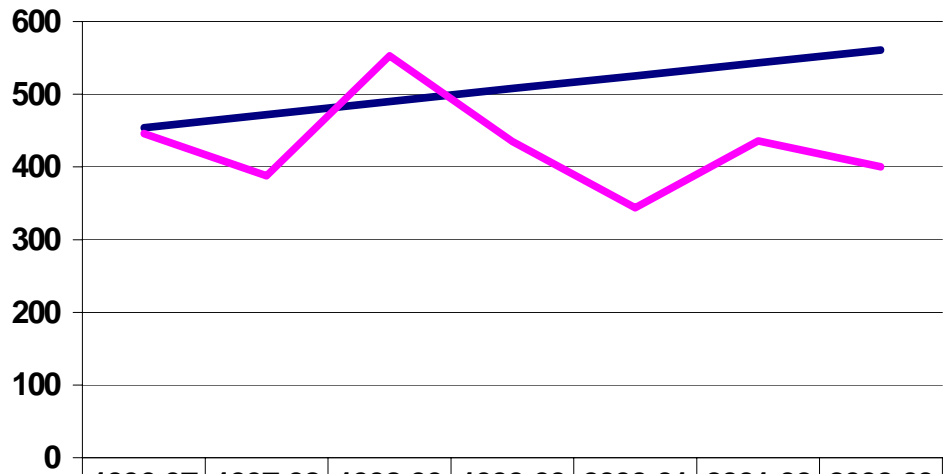

Degrees and Certificates Awarded

The College’s trends in degrees and certificates awarded are tabulated in Figures 20 and 21, with benchmark comparisons against established targets set by the Partnership for Excellence (PFE) program. During 2001-02 the College more than exceeded the goal by 1,264, with 2,366 associate degrees awarded. That gain tapered off in 2002-03, yet still surpassed the PFE benchmark by 217, awarding 1,375 associate degrees during that period (Figure 20). Figure 21 indicates that the College’s trend for certificates continues to fall below PFE expectations, with only 400 certificates awarded in the 2002-03 year.
