Selling Desire

Kathleen A. Taylor, Ph.D.

Do you feel like your body is continually socially scrutinized, that products you purchase don't deliver on their promise, and that a woman's "hotness" is the measure of her personal success? Are you confused by six-year-olds in bras and high heels, the difference between a Pimp and Ho, and the way race seems to matter when deciding who serves whom? You are not alone. Explore gender narratives in this multimedia presentation.
