

San Joaquin Delta College
Speech Language Pathology Assistant Program

Application Process

The online application will be available during posted submission dates at the Health Sciences/SLPA Program website: https://slpa.deltacollege.edu All communication from the Health Science Division Office with Delta SLPA Program applicants will be sent to the student's regular Delta College email account. <https://slpa.deltacollege.edu>

Applications are accepted once each year in the spring for entry into the SLPA AS degree Program for the following fall semester and once each year in the fall for Advanced Placement entry into the SLPA program for the following spring semester. All applicants who meet the admission criteria will be placed in a random drawing for the spaces available. Because of limited space to place students in community programs for clinical experiences, some restrictions may exist. Once accepted into the program, the student will receive further information pertaining to background and health clearance requirements that must be completed prior to beginning fieldwork. The additional information will be sent by email in a packet of instructions prior to registration dates for the upcoming semester.

Who does NOT need to apply to the program

The introductory courses in the program are open to all students at all times. COMM DIS 001A: Introduction to Communication Disorders and COMM DIS001B: Speech Language and Hearing Development may be taken without acceptance into the SLPA Program. Those who intend to transfer to University Bachelor's degree programs in Communication Sciences and Disorders, but do not want to complete the requirements for SLPA licensure at this time, may take these classes but do not need to apply to the SLPA Program. Students may also take these introductory courses as an elective or out of interest/curiosity in pursuing a career in Speech Language Pathology without applying to the program.

Who DOES need to apply to the program

There are two groups of students who need to apply to the program. They are SLPA AS degree seeking students and Advanced Placement SLPA students. Please read the following information to determine which situation applies to you.

I. Delta College SLPA Associate in Science Degree Students:

Students, who intend to complete the Associate of Science Degree for a Speech Language Pathology Assistant, must complete the supplemental application to the SLPA Program prior to registering in COMM DIS 003, Communication Disorders: Therapy Analysis and Fieldwork. Students must be accepted into the SLPA Program in order to register for COMM DIS 003.

SLPA AS Degree program prerequisites must be completed or may be in progress at the time of application. Grade C or higher is accepted:

- COMM DIS 001A - Introduction to Communication Disorders
- English 1A – Reading and Composition
- HS 019 – Human Development

SLPA AS degree program corequisite may be completed concurrently with COMM DIS 003 or prior with a grade of C or better:

- COMM DIS 001B - Speech, Language and Hearing Development

In addition to the prerequisite coursework in order to be eligible for admission to the SLPA program to pursue the SLPA Associate Degree the student must:

1. Be admitted to San Joaquin Delta College in good standing with no holds on college records. If not currently a Delta College student, please be sure to apply to the College several weeks prior to the SLPA program application as you must have Delta College student ID # and email address to complete the SLPA program application. It takes a few days for the system to update itself and recognize new students.
