WHAT CAN I DO WITH MY DEGREE?

Now more than ever, people are connected across borders through travel, communication, cultural exchanges, new technologies, and trade among others. This leads to an increasing demand for a workforce with greater understanding and skills necessary to function well in a cross-linguistic and cross-cultural environment. Our multi-disciplinary program introduces students to new worlds of opportunity at home and around the world. By developing both linguistic proficiency and intercultural competence, the program prepares individuals to become global citizens and to function effectively in this new world by becoming at the very least bilingual (possibly trilingual), and to build relationships and collaboration across a number of career fields, such as International Business, International Relations, Government, Journalism, Multimedia, World Languages Teaching, Non-Profit Organizations, Tourism, Arts, and more.

The World Languages faculty and staff at Delta College are committed to support students in achieving excellence in their academic journey.

WORLD LANGUAGES & GLOBAL STUDIES

The World Languages Department at Delta offers an Associate in Arts in World Languages and Global Studies: a multidisciplinary course of study that encourages global awareness, as well as intercultural communication and understanding through the acquisition of at least one modern language other than English, namely Chinese, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Sign Language, and Spanish. The program is designed with the dual intent of developing both linguistic and cultural competence.

Affording multiple opportunities for cross-linguistic and cross-cultural comparisons, the program emphasizes and analyzes languages, communication, and global affairs. As the world addresses urgent issues of multiculturalism, race, diversity, and social justice, the broad global perspective offered by this program is of great value. The elective courses allow students to frame their world language acquisition within global studies, culture coursework, and society studies with a regional and international emphasis.
